

Racial Equity Network Training III:
Cross-Racial Eyewitness ID
March 2, 2018

8:30–8:45	Registration
8:45–9:00	Welcome and Announcements Emily Coward, Project Attorney, NC Racial Equity Network, UNC School of Government Alyson Grine, Senior Advisor to the NC Racial Equity Network, Assistant Professor of Law, NC Central University School of Law
9:00–10:00	Miscarriages of Justice Caused by Mistaken Identification: The Case of Ronald Cotton (60 min.) Jennifer Thompson, Healing Justice
10:00-10:45	Evidence and Causes of Cross-Racial Impairment (45 min.) Professor Megan Papesh, Louisiana State University
10:45-11:00	BREAK with light snack provided
11:00-11:45	Legal Protections Against Unreliable Cross-Racial Identifications (45 min.) Professor James E. Coleman, Duke University School of Law
11:45-12:30	From Theory to Practice: Challenging Unreliable Cross-Racial Eyewitness Identifications at the Trial Level (45 min.) LeeAnne Lawrence, Attorney at Law and NC REN Alumna, Elizabeth City, NC
12:30-1:15	LUNCH provided on-site
1:15-2:00	Achieving Law Reform One Case at a Time: The People v. Boone (45 min.) Marne Lenox, Assistant Counsel, NAACP Legal Defense Fund
2:00-2:50	Strategy Session I: Issue Spotting and Cross Examining the Eyewitness (50 min.)
2:50-3:05	BREAK with light snack provided
3:05-3:55	Strategy Session II: Voir Dire (50 min.)
3:55-4:25	Prospects for Reform in North Carolina (30 min.) Marne Lenox, James Coleman, Emily Coward, Alyson Grine
4:25-4:30	Closing Announcements and Adjourn